Director, Strategic Sourcing

Position Description:

The Ottawa Hospital (TOH) is one of the largest Academic Health Science Centres in Canada, with more than 1,100 beds, approximately 12,000 staff, and an annual budget in the region of $1.2 billion. Affiliated with the University of Ottawa and the Ottawa Hospital Research Institute, TOH is committed to meeting the needs of the 1.2 million residents it serves in Ottawa and Eastern Ontario, and is anchored by values of compassion, quality, teamwork, and respect.

TOH is currently seeking a Director, Strategic Sourcing.

Reporting to the EVP, Finance & Business Development, the Director ensures that TOH's procurement is undertaken with a strategic corporate outlook and sets the overall direction of the Procurement team with respect to its programs, services and operations. A key advisor to the Senior Leadership Team on all procurement related matters, the Director will establish and maintain positive client relationships with internal and external stakeholders as he / she supports TOH and its affiliated partners in the strategic sourcing of all goods and services to meet the needs of its lines of business.

As an ideal candidate, you possess a university degree in a relevant field and a minimum of eight years of progressively senior strategic procurement management experience, preferably in a large and complex unionized environment. You are highly valued for your strategic sourcing and procurement knowledge, and unwavering focus on best value, industry best practices and managed risk. Considered a skilled negotiator and relationship builder, you are a collaborative and team oriented people leader, bringing a demonstrated track record of motivating, coaching, and mentoring a team of procurement professionals as you instil a culture of proactivity, accountability, continuous improvement and innovation. Perhaps most importantly, your strong business and financial acumen, combined with your bias-to-action and solutions orientation will assist TOH in achieving its strategic vision of providing each patient with world-class care, exceptional service and compassion. Previous experience in healthcare is an asset, as is a Supply Chain Management Professional designation.
